

2014 End of Year Recap

September 9, 2014

2014 Season Wrap-up

So we are already wrapping up the 4th? I can't believe next year will be 5th year already and we have a lot of success to continue to build on.

Heading into this season, we notably made more refinement to our scoring system and payouts to simplify outcomes. We gained new members, clarified rules, and for the team of the year race – it was truly anyone's game all the way to the end. I feel the singular point system and our collective improvements in catching bass made this a race we all want to be a part of for years to come.

Additionally, we added some new sponsorship and awarded with Rod Slicks. Next year we look to add more in order to give even more value back to you, the members.

Thank You WBT Members!

We were formed on more knowledge sharing and camaraderie and you all contributed to that success. Thank you. We've been fortunate to have brought together a great group of anglers that share the same passions for bass fishing, camaraderie, education, and competition! As happened for me this year, I personally hope that you too have gained knowledge from other members on approaching each day of fishing and as a result, seen improvement in your catching prowess.

I really believe this is the best weekend team bass tournament tour and look forward to your participation next year!

Look out for the January meeting announcement later this year. Take care and have a great winter, thanks for making this another successful year!
